

So here it is, Spafield street. So this is the only hotel here, 'the One-dream' hotel.

Now that I entered this hotel, it resembles more like a haunted villa to me...Sheesh.

Receptionist!? Anyone there!?

Someone touches your shoulder from the back.

Oh my goodness you scared me, dude

He gives you a letter and a key of room no. 1.

Well, I don't really think its a prank...something is odd. Let me go to the room.

ROOM no. 1

You reach in front of the room, and as you open the door with that key you find that there is strange voidness in the room.

It's like you have teleported to some other dimension.

Ok, cool down...cool down...Idk what is going on but now I am not going back. It's not a prank or something. There's something serious happening with Luna.

Let's see this letter.

hey, this letter seems to be very old, something that dates back to years ago.
